“When I transferred from Corning Community College the process was easy...My G.I. bill information was easily transferred and also all my prior credits without any hassle. All questions I had were answered in a timely manner and I didn't have to deal with the run-around that often occurs with paperwork. The transfer process to Mansfield was one of the least painstaking processes I have experienced with college paperwork.”

“Although transferring from a community college in Virginia was a difficult decision, I knew immediately that Mansfield University was the right school for me...I was excited to find MU had everything I desired in a school. Transferring to MU was a relatively easy process and when certain credits did not transfer correctly, I simply explained the course I took and “BA-DA-BING” it was done. It was important to continue my music education at a school with a high success rate in music, so of course MU was a shoe-in.”

“Having transferred to Mansfield from a college in upstate NY I was unsure as to how it would compare with what I was used to, and how I would like it. I absolutely love Mansfield and I am confident I have made the correct decision in coming here! The professors I interact with on a daily basis are phenomenal and I feel as though I am learning so much from them. I can tell they love what they are teaching because it reflects back in their classes. The campus is easy to navigate and if you do get lost, I've always found a friendly peer to steer me in the right direction. I used to dread spending time in the registrar's office, or financial aid, but everything is incredibly organized here and I've never had to wait to get the help I needed! Coming to Mansfield has been one of the best decisions I could have ever made for myself!"

"There are opportunities I had at Mansfield that I never would've anywhere else...The availability, friendliness, and knowledge of the faculty is unmatched...They have always made time for me...Part of the charm is the small-town feel. That might be why I was able to get to know my professors so well. It's a small school, it's easy to make friends...opportunities to play sports, be in band, participate in other activities are there...the library...it's a great place...I truly feel like a part of both the campus and the community at large. I will miss it when I leave."

I would highly, no more than highly, recommend this program and professors to any education major...Mansfield University has offered me many opportunities to advance myself and make new friendships...welcomes you and expects you to know that you have the utmost respect from the school and they are willing to help you throughout your experience."
